Questions to Ask of Each Preference 31
This booklet is designed to help you understand your results on the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® (MBTI®) personality inventory and their applications in organizational settings. The MBTI provides a useful method for understanding people by looking at eight personality preferences that everyone uses at different times. These eight preferences are organized into four opposite pairs. When you take the Indicator, the four preferences (one from each pair you identify as being most like you) are combined into what is called a type.

The four pairs of preferences, or dichotomies, describe four activities:
- Energizing—how a person is energized, either Extraversion (E) or Introversion (I)
- Perceiving—what a person pays attention to, either Sensing (S) or Intuition (N)*
- Deciding—how a person decides, either Thinking (T) or Feeling (F)
- Living—the lifestyle a person adopts, either Judging (J) or Perceiving (P)

Some characteristics of each preference are presented in the table below.

<table>

<th>Introversion (I)</th>

<td>Preference for drawing energy from the outside world of people, activities, and things</td>
<td>Preference for drawing energy from one’s internal world of ideas, emotions, and impressions</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Perceiving</td>
<td>Sensing (S)</td>
<td>Intuition (N)*</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>Preference for taking in information through the five senses and noticing what is actual</td>
<td>Preference for taking in information through a “sixth sense” and noting what might be</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deciding</td>
<td>Thinking (T)</td>
<td>Feeling (F)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Preference for organizing and structuring information to decide in a logical, objective way</td>
<td>Preference for organizing and structuring information to decide in a personal, values-oriented way</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Living</td>
<td>Judging (J)</td>
<td>Perceiving (P)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Preference for living a planned and organized life</td>
<td>Preference for living a spontaneous and flexible life</td>
</tr>

*To avoid duplication and confusion, the letter “N” is used for Intuition because the letter “I” signifies Introversion.
Introverted Sensing with Thinking
